did use a shotgun while working with the California Highway Patrol. I retired four years ago with 31 years of service. Now I primarily just do historical research and collect guns rather than shooting them.

I still have time to get out into the woods now and then with my hunting buddies for some deer hunting but that has also gotten "less rigorous" as well... It's been several years since I have added any deer horns to the collection on the wall!

Thank you again for taking the time to research and copy all the information you sent me. If I locate any further information on John Currie, I will pass it along.

THANK YOU!

P.S. Here is the "translation" of the service record on the photocopy.
